Trump impeached

PRESIDENT IS THIRD IN U.S. HISTORY TO FACE SENATE TRIAL

BY PHILIP RUCKER AND FELIX SONNEX
The House of Representatives voted late Wednesday to impeach President Trump on charges that he abused his office and obstructed Congress, with Democrats declaring him a threat to the nation and branding an indelible mark on the most turbulent presidency of modern times.
After 11 hours of fierce argument on the House floor between Democrats and Republicans over Trump's conduct with Ukraine, lawmakers voted almost entirely along party lines to impeach him. Trump becomes the third president in U.S. history to face trial in the Senate — a proceeding that will determine whether he is removed from office less than one year before he stands for reelection.
On Trump's 1,023rd day in office, Congress brought a momentous reckoning to an unorthodox president who has tested America's institutions with an array of surreptitious actions, including some that a collection of his own appointees and other government witnesses testified were unethical and unbecom-
